

Rescue from the Fall

By: Mrs. Irene Williams

So, you're a high roller, big shot caller-heavy hitter, party room baller.
In control, and oh – so bold!
No one can tell you nothing. You're so cold.
You're the one who's in-the-know,
because you run the big show.
Living large and in charge.
Little people you discard.
Respect for others you don't give,
like you purchased their right to live.
Walk around, and do not forgive.
Arrogant with no appeal.
Head all stuck up in the clouds,
acting like it will cost you something if you smile.
Love for others you don't show.
May God forgive you. You just don't know...
Eyes wide open, but you can't see just how cruel Satan can be.
You think he loves you. He's no friend.
Anyone who claims his friendship –
he will befriend.
One day you slipped, and you fell
because you kept answering Satan's mail.
You bought in to all of Satan's lies.
The truth he knows not, for the truth he despises.

Fell so low...
You didn't know just how low you could go.
You screamed and yelled.
Everyone could see and could tell your life had become derailed.
Found yourself handcuffed in the devil's
jail; shackles on you in a lonely cell.
The love you thought Satan had for you,
it failed.
You ate his food and drank his tea.
Eyes wide open – oh, but now you can see.
If this is your story, don't be ashamed!
Cry out to God, in Jesus' Name!
Jesus will show up, and the Holy Ghost, too!
He will hear your cry and heed your call.
He won't condemn you at all!
From your fall, He will rescue you,
because that just what Jesus will do!

Tell the devil, “Your food I don’t like.
All of a sudden, I’ve lost my appetite!
Satan, you thought my story would sell.
But you have no copyright.
Jesus Christ purchased my bill of sale!”
So now, your rescue story you must tell
to free someone else from the devil’s jail.
When Jesus rescues you from the fall - don’t look back! But for Jesus, stand tall!
Let no one torture you with remember when,
Because Christ brought you back into His family again.
His love will hide a multitude of faults.
So, don’t allow people to contaminate your thoughts.
Who the Son sets free is free, indeed!
Condemnation from people you don’t need.
Never again by the devil will you get beat
if you live your life at the Saviour’s feet.
High roller for Jesus, now you be!
Jesus rescued you from that trap!
HALLELIUAH! Now that’s a rap!
